New Home Affordability and Indicative Costs Guide
Plot 34 at Albany Wood

Customer Guidance

Your new home is built to the latest standards for energy efficiency and will generally cost less to maintain than an equivalent second-hand home. This schedule highlights any anticipated costs that customers may be liable for during the first 10 years of ownership of their new home. This does not include such areas as mortgage payments, utility bills or home insurance, but covers potential anticipated costs of running and maintaining a home. These costs are indicative and based on the best information at this time but could be subject to change. Standard maintenance such as internal decorating, gardening, cleaning gutters and window cleaning are not included, and you can find useful information on this in your home owner's guide.

In addition to the items noted below, Customers should follow the manufacturers guidelines and warranty requirements in order to maintain any appliances or fixtures within their new home. Furthermore, whilst running in a new home, it is important to maintain good levels of ventilation whilst the structure is drying out. This could include the use of extractor fans in bathrooms and keeping trickle vents open on windows.

If you have any questions about the costs shown in this schedule, please ask your Sales Executive before Exchange of Contracts.

Indicative Anticipated Costs – Part 1

The main structural frame of your New Home is made of Masonry.
The construction of your garage is brickwork with a tiled roof.
The Predicted Energy Performance Rating is: B
Estimated annual costs for maintaining the property at the date of Reservation Note these costs are only applicable if these items are included in your home.
Product	Nature of maintenance cost (e.g. replacement, servicing or maintenance)	Anticipated Costs
Heating
Gas Heating	Maintenance service annually	£150.00 annually
External structure.
The external materials used for walls, roofs, doors and windows do not generally require maintenance within the first 10 years. If maintenance is required, the maintenance and cost will be detailed below. In some circumstances customers may also choose to wash clean render finishes for aesthetic reasons.
Technology
We carefully select technologies that are designed to require limited maintenance in the first 10 years. Unless shown below there should be no maintenance or replacement costs should your home have Intermittent Extract Vents, PV Solar Panels, a Solar inverter, an EV Car Charger or Waste water heat recovery systems.

Decentralised MEV (Vent Axia Lo-Carbon NBR DMEV)	Basic Service every 2 years	£180.00 per service
Appliances
We select appliances where the manufacturer provides assurance that the design life of the product is generally in excess of 10 years. Unless shown below there should be no maintenance or replacement costs for your Hob, Hob extract hood, Oven, or Fridge Freezer. Your Dishwashers and Washing Machine have a design life of between 7 & 11 years and we have provided an approximate replacement cost below.
Dishwasher	Replacement in 9-11 years	£600
Washing machine	Replacement in 7-9 years	£600
Garden Area
Stone and brick boundary walls require no maintenance. We use pressure treated timber for fencing that should last approximately 10 years. However, to lengthen the life of fencing and maintain its visual appearance we recommend that you apply preservative to the panels every two years. To maintain the look of blockwork paths and driveways if you have them, we recommend that you apply a weedkiller every two years. These products are available at DIY stores at reasonable cost and should be applied to manufacturer's instructions.
The projected costs referred to above are only estimates, are not intended to reflect all possible costs that a customer may incur and are provided for guidance only. Actual costs incurred may be higher or lower than specified and we accept no liability should actual costs incurred differ from those set out above
